MORE THAN JOHN's First Original Single, "Go Anywhere," Drops December 6, 2024

Subhead:

An intimate journey of longing and liberation, the new track sets another part of the stage for MORE THAN JOHN's debut album, arriving in April 2025.

[Stockholm, Sweden] – December 4, 2024 –

MORE THAN JOHN, the enigmatic artist whose introspective and anthemic soundscapes captivated audiences with the beautifully reimagined debut single, Wild Mountain Thyme, returns with their first original track, Go Anywhere. Written and masterfully performed by John Engdahl (aka MORE THAN JOHN) on his spellbinding acoustic steel-string guitar, the single releases worldwide this Friday, December 6, 2024, on Threeman Recordings and the artist's sub-imprint OIIIIIO.

A poignant exploration of freedom and the pull of the unknown, Go Anywhere balances soaring melodies with deeply reflective lyrics. Inspired by the tension between staying anchored and embracing uncharted possibilities, the song's chorus captures this universal yearning:

Something pulls me there / I would if I could / Go anywhere.

Recorded at the renowned Riksmixningsverket in Stockholm, Go Anywhere was produced by Alex Hellid and co-produced, recorded, and mixed by Linn Fijal, with mastering by Frida Claeson-Johansson at Svenska Grammofonstudion Mastering in Berlin (located in the iconic Hansa Building). The result is a beautifully crafted track that highlights MORE THAN JOHN's unique ability to merge poetic storytelling with raw musical talent.

"This song is about standing at the edge of possibility," says John Engdahl (aka MORE THAN JOHN). "It's the push-and-pull of wanting to break free but hesitating to take that first step. Writing Go Anywhere was like navigating that internal journey."

Go Anywhere is the second release from MORE THAN JOHN's forthcoming debut album, slated for release on Record Store Day, April 19, 2025. The album will feature nine original tracks, including Go Anywhere, alongside a reimagined rendition of Wild Mountain Thyme. While this debut explores an acoustic-focused sound, MORE THAN JOHN embraces a fluid and evolving creative approach, refusing to be confined to a single genre.

Availability

Go Anywhere will be available on all major streaming platforms, including Spotify, Apple Music, and Amazon Music, starting Friday, December 6, 2024. Fans can pre-save the single now via [INSERT PRE-SAVE LINK].
